DID YOU KNOW THAT

People who volunteer report that they feel better emotionally, mentally, and physically, while employees engaging in corporate giving programs have, on average, a 75% longer tenure with their company?

Animals like Cocomutt need people like you.

Some animals arrive at our shelter and are immediately labeled an underdog. Cocomutt was one of those animals, having been surrendered as a 12-year-old blocky-headed dog with arthritis.

Our medical team was able to alleviate Cocomutt's discomfort, and we got to witness her thirst for adventure return. Cocomutt transformed before our eyes, eventually tip-tapping her toes whenever anyone approached her kennel with a leash in hand.

The next step was finding her the perfect home.

Months passed with no real interest, but we weren't going to give up. We knew this dog was special. On the 75th day of being homeless, we were delighted to see her leave the shelter with her new people.

Today, Cocomutt is part of a family. She is valued, safe and adored, and none of that could be possible without the support of people like you.

Thank you.
